

February 4, 2013

Congratulations to

- Jon Maner on receiving the APA Early Career Award in Social Psychology. The APA Early Career Award is generally considered the highest honor in the field of psychology that is bestowed on researchers who are at early stages of their careers.
- Neil Charness and Ed Bernat, both of whom were recognized by the university for their contributions to intellectual property development by moving their innovative research results into commercial use. Neil's innovation is entitled A Personalized Reminder Information about Social Management (PRISM) and Ed's is entitled Psychophysiology Tool Box (PTB).
- Brad Schmidt and Diana Williams, both of whom received a planning grant from the Council on Research and Creativity for their research. Brad's grant is entitled, "Reducing Suicide Risk and Increasing Medication Compliance in Individuals with HIV/AIDS," and Diana's is entitled, "Role of Hindbrain A2 Neurons in the Control of Palatable Food Intake."
- Sara Hart on receiving a First Year Assistant Professor Award from the Council on Research and Creativity for her research on "Individual Differences in Internet Cognition."
- Anders Ericsson on receiving the 2012 Neon Elephant Award given by Work-Learning Research which recognizes significant contributions to performance-improvement research.
- Joyce Carbonell on her selection as an honoree for Tallahassee Community College's Women's History Month.
- Jennifer Hames, a doctoral student in the Clinical program (major professor: Thomas Joiner), on receiving a dissertation grant from the Greater Good Science Center/John Templeton Foundation in the amount of $10,000 for her project, "Testing the Efficacy of a Gratitude Intervention in Individuals at Risk for Suicide and Depression."
- Jessica Ribeiro, a doctoral student in the Clinical program (major professor: Thomas Joiner), on receiving a dissertation award from the Society for a Science of Clinical Psychology.
- Michelle Baker-Russell, a doctoral student in the Social program (major professor: Jim McNulty), on receiving a Graduate Student Travel Award from the Society for Personality and Social Psychology in the amount of $500. Michelle was also a finalist for the SPSP Graduate Student Poster Award for her poster entitled, "'I Forgive You, but Don't Do It again!' Partner Regulation Buffers against the Dark Side of Forgiveness".
- Jeremy Pettit, a graduate of the Clinical program (major professor: Thomas Joiner), on receiving the American Association of Suicidology's Shneidman Award for outstanding contributions to suicidology.
- Juan Dominguez, a former post-doc in Elaine Hull's lab, on his promotion to Associate Professor with tenure at the University of Texas, Austin. Juan received an R01 grant last year.

Recent Publications and Invited Talks

- Ericsson, K. A. (in press). Training history, deliberate practice and elite sports performance: An analysis in response to Tucker and Collins Review - "What makes champions?" British Journal of Sports Medicine.
- Ward, P., Ericsson, K. A., & Williams, A. M. (in press). Complex perceptual-cognitive expertise in a simulated task environment. Journal of Cognitive Engineering and Decision Making.
- Ericsson, K. A. (2012). The making of an expert: What can we learn from the training of chess masters, elite athletes and musicians? Invited Keynote at the Dutch Conference on Teaching Expertise, University of Utrecht, The Netherlands, October 11th.
- Ericsson, K. A. (2012). The making of superior surgeons through deliberate practice: What can we learn from the training of chess masters, elite athletes and musicians? Keynote as the Royal College Lecture in Residency Education at the annual meeting of The International Conference on Residency Education, Ottawa, Canada, October 18th.
- Ericsson, K. A. (2012). The making of expert healthcare providers: Will unlimited resources for training healthcare professionals improve their abilities? Invited Lecture in Hopkins Distinguished Speaker Series. Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md, November 19th.
- Ericsson, K. A. (2012). The making of expert healthcare providers: What can we learn from the training of chess masters, elite athletes and musicians? Laerdal Keynote at the Annual Conference of Association for Simulated Practice in Healthcare (ASPiH). Kassam Stadium, Oxford, United Kingdom, November 7th.
- Hart, S. A., Logan, J. A. R., Soden-Hensler, B., Kershaw, S., Taylor, J., & Schatschneider, C. (in press). Exploring how nature and nurture effect the development of reading: An exploration of the Florida Twin Project in Reading. Developmental Psychology. Jessica Logan and Sarah Kershaw are graduates of the Developmental program and Brooke Soden-Hensler is a graduate of the Cognitive program (major professor: Chris Schatschneider).
- Baker, L. R., & McNulty, J. K. (in press). When low self-esteem encourages behaviors that risk rejection to increase interdependence: The role of relational self-control. Journal of Personality and Social Psychology. Levi Baker-Russell is a graduate student in the Social program (major professor: Jim McNulty).
- Baker, L. R., McNulty, J. K., Overall, N.C., Lambert, N. M., & Fincham, F. D. (in press). How do relationship maintenance behaviors affect individual well-being?: A contextual perspective. Social Psychological and Personality Science. Levi Baker-Russell is a graduate student in the Social program (major professor: Jim McNulty).
- Fay, A. J., & Maner, J. K. (2012). Warmth, spatial proximity, and social attachment: The embodied perception of a social metaphor. Journal of Experimental Social Psychology, 48, 1369-1372. Adam Fay is a graduate student in the Social program. (major professor: Jon Maner).
- Hames, J. L., Hagan, C. R., & Joiner, T. C. (in press). Interpersonal processes in depression. Annual Review of Clinical Psychology. Jennifer Hames and Christopher Hagan are graduate students in the Clinical program (major professor: Thomas Joiner).

- O'Neill, R., Murphy, V., Mogle, J., MacKenzie, M. J., MacGregor, K. L., Pearson, M., & Parekh, M. (in press). Are systems-centered teams more collaborative, productive, and creative? Team Performance Management. Michael MacKenzie is a graduate student in the Social program (major professor: Roy Baumeister).
- Russell, V.M., Baker, L. R., & McNulty, J.K. (in press). Attachment insecurity and infidelity in marriage: Do studies of dating relationships really inform us about marriage? Journal of Family Psychology. Michelle Baker-Russell and Levi Baker-Russell are graduate students in the Social program (major professor: Jim McNulty).

In the News

- Roy Baumeister's research was recently featured in
 - Forbes (Diamond, D., 1/1/13), Just 8% of People Achieve Their New Year's Resolutions. Here's How They Do It. (<http://www.forbes.com/sites/dandiamond/2013/01/01/just-8-of-people-achieve-their-new-years-resolutions-heres-how-they-did-it/>),
 - The Globe and Mail (Pearce, T., 12/23/12), Willpower is Limited, So Say Yes to Dessert, (<http://www.theglobeandmail.com/life/holiday-guide/holiday-survival-guide/willpower-is-limited-so-say-yes-to-dessert/article6647795/?cmpid=rss1>),
 - U.S. News and World Report (Pomerance, R., 12/28/12), Why Do People Go Nuts on New Year's Eve? (<http://health.usnews.com/health-news/articles/2012/12/28/why-do-people-go-nuts-on-new-years-eve>).

PBS recently visited FSU to film the Baumeister lab's work on free will. When the program airs it will feature Roy and his students Mike Ent and Andy Vonasch, graduate students in the Social program.
- Anders Ericsson's research was recently featured
 - on the BBC (Bradley, D., 11/14/12), Why Gladwell's 10,000-hour Rule is Wrong (<http://www.bbc.com/future/story/20121114-gladwells-10000-hour-rule-myth/1>),
 - in The Chicago Tribune (Haugh, D., 10/10/12), Novice Working Way Methodically - Hopefully - to PGA Tour, (http://articles.chicagotribune.com/2012-10-10/sports/ct-spt-1011-haugh-chicago--20121011_1_mclaughlin-local-golf-pga-tour),
 - in The Wall Street Journal (Newport, C., 1/2/13), How to Be a Better Boss in 2013 (http://online.wsj.com/article/SB10001424127887323635504578215391693878364.html?mod=oglenews_wsj).
- Natalie Sachs-Ericsson's article, Early childhood abuse and late-life suicidal ideation, published in Aging and Mental Health in 2013 was included in a daily digest of top journal articles at the web site MDLinx, Internal Medicine. Natalie's co-authors were Elizabeth Corsentino, Nicole Collins Rushing and Julia Sheffler, all students in the Clinical program working with Natalie.

Please send your "Good News" to psynews@psy.fsu.edu